BILL IS PASSED
BY UPPER HOUSE*Gained Five Votes On Reconsideration By Senate This Morn

Springfield, Ill., May 20.—(AP)—Acquiring five votes, Senator Barbour's drivers' license bill was passed by the Senate today, 29 to 15, on reconsideration, after it had once been voted down by 24 to 17. It now goes to the House.

An attempt to pass the bill to require use of silver nitrate on newborn babies eyes, over Governor Emmerson's veto, failed in the Senate. The vote was 28 to 16. Thirty-four votes were needed.

Organized labor's bill for an eight hour work day for women suffered a temporary setback in the House today when a motion was defeated to have it advanced to second reading without committee reference.

Springfield, Ill., May 20.—(UP)—Enactment of a law requiring treatment of eyes of children at birth with a solution of nitrate of silver was sought today following action of the Illinois state House of Representatives yesterday in voting to override a veto of the measure by Governor L. L. Emmerson and in the face of an opinion by Attorney General Oscar Carlstrom that the bill was unconstitutional.

The vote to pass the measure was 113 to 15, 11 more than the necessary 102 votes which is two thirds of the full constitutional House membership.

The House action was supported by both parties, representatives Roger Little, Champaign, Republican floor leader, and Homer Tice, Greenville, House administration spokesman, joining with minority leader Michael L. Igoe, Chicago, in the latter's motion to adopt the bill over Emmerson's veto.

Carlstrom Criticized
Criticism of members in connection with the bill was aimed at Senator rather than Emmerson, both Tice and Representative Elmer Schnackenberg, Republican, Chicago declaring that the Governor would not hold House passage of the measure over his veto as an "affront."

In vetoing the bill Governor Emmerson sent the following message to the House:

"In an opinion rendered to me under date of May 18, 1931, the Attorney General advised me that the said bill is unconstitutional.

"Since the Attorney General has held this bill in violation of the constitution of the state of Illinois, I feel constrained to veto and withhold my approval from it, regardless of any opinion as to the results it seeks to accomplish."

Women Jurors Bill
Bills providing for women to serve on Illinois juries were reported for passage in the House today following a hearing on the measures yesterday before the House committee on Judiciary.

The committee voted to recommend passage, 24 to 18 after a lengthy discussion, some doubt being raised as to the legality of the proposed law since the state Supreme Court recently ruled a woman's jury law unconstitutional. The high court's ruling was based on the fact that the legislature of 1929 submitted the proposal to a referendum.

The court declared that the legislature had "abdicated its legislative power" by inserting a referendum clause in the bill. The measures under consideration at present were introduced by Representative James McKiever, Republican, Chicago.

Standard Wage Bill
Workmen employed on state or municipal construction would receive the prevailing rate of wage in the community in which they are working, according to a bill laid before Gov. Emmerson today. The bill was passed by the state Senate yesterday.

The bill was introduced by Representative Truman Snell, Democrat, Carlinville, who declares it is intended to relieve conditions in hard road construction camps where contractors are alleged to have paid laborers as low as 17 cents an hour last summer.

During the discussion of the measure in the Senate yesterday, Senator Earl B. Searcy, Republican, Springfield, produced a photostatic copy of a check paid a hard road worker last summer. The check was in payment for 18 hours work and was for $4.95. After 4.35 had been taken for board a balance of 60 cents was left.

Firemen Exempted
Springfield and other city firemen in the state are exempt from liability from accidents under the provision of a bill passed by the House yesterday. The bill was offered by William J. Lawler, Republican, Springfield, and goes to the Senate.

Issuance of $2,000,000 in bonds for relief of poor in Chicago as provided in a bill introduced by Representative J. H. Donohue, Democrat, Chicago, was made possible yesterday as a result of Governor Emmerson's action in allowing the measure to become law without his signature. Emmerson explained that he took that course of action because the bill did not contain a referendum clause.

AMERICAN PRIZE BEAUTY IS FREED
BY FRENCH JURY*Mrs. Nixon-Nirdlinger Shot Husband In Self-Defense*BY MARY KNIGHT

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Nice, France, May 20.—(UP)—Mrs. Charlotte Nixon-Nirdlinger, St. Louis prize beauty who shot and killed her jealous husband during a quarrel, was acquitted by a French jury today.

The American girl, dressed in mourning for the man she killed, convinced the French jurors that she had shot in self-defense when her middle-aged husband tried to strangle her.

She repudiated vigorously insinuations that she had a lover and that she married the wealthy Philadelphia theatrical man, Fred Nixon-Nirdlinger, for his money.

Favorable to the prosecuting attorney, addressed the jury without apparent effort to make a strong presentation. He admitted that the life of the Nixon-Nirdlingers had been unhappy, but said "there is always divorce as a way out. None has the right to take justice into his own hands."

The defense lawyer, Marcel Bonifacio cried with oratorical gesticulations: "Charlotte's married life was a Calvary of continuous quarrels based on jealousy. On the murder day Nixon-Nirdlinger said 'will you sell me the children?' To which Charlotte replied: 'no, they are more precious than gold to me.'"

"There is nothing to the story of Italian lovers. The only Italians who ever entered Charlotte's life were several professional dancers to whom her husband paid a dollar to dance with his wife."

The jury acquitted Mrs. Nixon-Nirdlinger on the grounds of self-defense. Only 25 minutes was spent in deliberation, the verdict coming just at 6 P. M.

Two Would-Be Bank Robbers Captured

St. Louis, May 20.—(AP)—Two men, arrested here yesterday in connection with an attempt to open a safe in the Bank of Pavey, at Pavey, Mo. Monday night, will be returned to Hillsboro, Mo., today by Sheriff C. D. Clark of Jefferson county, police said.

Police said the Misses Helen and Bertha Nippert, sisters and telephone operators, who were gagged and trussed in the telephone company's office above the bank, identified Floyd Williams, 26, a cook of Centralia, Ill., as one of the burglars. Williams, however, denied he was in Pavey, and said he spent Monday night at Poplar Bluff, Mo. The other man arrested was Frank Kennedy, alias Elmer Jackson, 23, a former Missouri convict.

After blinding and gagging the Nippert sisters, the burglars were joined by a third man before going to the bank downstairs. They fled when tear gas was discharged by their knocking the combination from the safe.

Sergeant John Walsh, who guarded Factor, finally told him, "you'd better talk to these boys," and the fugitive drew out the slip of paper, but still refused to talk.

Factor smartly dressed in a gray business suit and looking more like a man of 30 than the 39 he is, handed out the statement reluctantly after refusing to discuss the charges with the newspapermen who swarmed around him.

'JAKE THE BARBER' SURRENDERS SELF
TO U. S. MARSHAL*To Fight Extradition To England As Alleged Swindler

Chicago, May 20.—(UP)—John "Jake the Barber" Factor surrendered to the United States government today to fight extradition to England on charges of swindling British stock investors out of millions.

While waiting a hearing, the 39-year-old salesman, once a barber on South Halsted street, related how he used his London profits to win an audience with the Prince of Wales by "breaking the bank" at the La Torquet Casino in France.

The dapper barber-financier admitted he left England a year ago with large sums realized from stock enterprises, but declared his operations were legitimate, and merely smiled at mention of $7,000,000 as the amount he took away.

He "Pulled Fast One"
"I pulled a fast one on the British public," Factor said. "I made a lot of money in England, and I've got some of it left, but it all came legitimately. I was in London a short time, operating a brokerage business, buying and selling stock. Other Britishers do the same, but I was smarter than they, and England's jealous of my luck."

Factor, who said he has a 17-year-old son, but has more the appearance of a prosperous young La Salle street broker, confessed that he and the Prince of Wales became "quite friendly."

"I went to the LaTorquet Casino in France and broke the bank by winning $650,000 at chemin de fer," he explained. "A few days later the Casino manager asked me to play with the Prince."

"Chemin de fer is a game in which there are no bankers or dealers, so it isn't true that I won from the Prince. We set beside each other, at the same table. I continued winning and the Prince lost."

"The Prince asked me to tell him the secret of my good fortune, we went to the bar and drank together. The Prince was charming, but I don't think he had very good card sense."

Denies Knowing Diamond
Factor laughed genially at stories insinuating that he and Jack "Legs" Diamond, New York gangster, were engaged in a feud because Diamond had lent money for Factor's stock operations which had not been repaid.

"I don't know Diamond and I don't know any gangsters," Factor said. "No one ever has tried to kidnap me and I haven't tried to make any alliance with 'Scarface' Al Capone. It's all rot, as the British say."

The ex-barber's surrender was carried out with elaborate ceremony through an appointment with Edward C. King, United States Deputy Marshal, to go to a north side street intersection "for something interesting."

The approach was made by Factor's attorneys. When King drove to the spot, he found Factor and his wife waiting, and took them to the federal building. Mrs. Factor left and her husband was installed in the marshal's private office to await a hearing.

Factor was questioned in the Marshal's office while Godfrey Haggard, British consul, was notified, and arrangements were made for the hearing before United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker.

Factor was forewarned with a statement in which he made a blanket denial of the stories about him, including charges that he was seeking to hide from Diamond and from kidnapers, and had bargained with Capone to protect him.

Denies All Charges
"I have no statement to make at this time," Factor said, "except that all I have read about myself in the last few days is absolutely false. The statements about me and members of my family are absolutely without foundation."

"I have appeared voluntarily because I know that the charges that have been made against me are absolutely untrue. The members of my family have been made to suffer through these false accusations."

"The attitude of the British authorities is that I should be placed in jail and denied an opportunity to defend myself against these accusations. I am sure to meet squarely the charges which have been made against me, but I feel that my constitutional right to bail should not be denied."

"I know that upon a hearing I will vindicate myself of all charges. Until the opportunity to defend myself has been accorded me, I trust my friends will ignore all the charges."

Factor smartly dressed in a gray business suit and looking more like a man of 30 than the 39 he is, handed out the statement reluctantly after refusing to discuss the charges with the newspapermen who swarmed around him.

ARMY AIR CORPS HOPPED OFF FOR
CHICAGO AT NOON*568 Planes Took Air
For Night And A Day Over Lake

Fairfield Air Depot, Dayton, Ohio, May 20.—(AP)—Weather bound for a day, 568 planes of the first division Army Air Corps moved on Chicago today for a two day demonstration. The first group, made up of transports, took to the wing from the air depot here shortly before 11 a. m. Eastern Standard Time. The bombers hopped off at 11:15.

The planes took off in a haze, but weather reports from nearby points were that better conditions prevailed and Brigadier General B. D. Poulos gave the order for the hop off, in spite of the fact it meant sacrifice of a day's maintenance work at New York.

After 24 hours of uncertainty during which the planes were grounded by the inclement weather the pilots seemed glad to be on the move again. A cold rain during the morning did not make for the best conditions here, and the delay in getting started caused considerable confusion in the mess halls.

The first unit of the air fleet was to arrive over Chicago about 2 p. m. The ships will set down at four airports there and will remain over night.

Ninety six observation ships of the National Guard at Cleveland also hopped off for the Windy city. After the demonstrations in the Chicago region, the ships will return to the depot here late tomorrow. Then will come an inspection prior to the hop off for New York Friday morning.

Officers said the Chicago demonstration would be featured by a divisional parade over the lake front from Evanston to the Indiana state line.

HERO'S BODY IS RECOVERED FROM TONS OF DEBRIS

Tours, France, May 20.—(UP)—The body of Brig.-Gen. Robert H. Dunlap was recovered today, buried under tons of rock and mud by a landslide at the Chateau la Farniere.

Mrs. Denis Briant, a peasant's wife, was discovered by rescue workers imprisoned but unhurt in a cave-like but beneath tons of rocks and mud. She had no knowledge of General Dunlap, who gave his life in an effort to rescue her, or of her husband, also a victim of the landslide.

A voice was heard shortly before noon. The rescuers, fatigued by a night of labor, dug toward the sound and at last reached the place where Mrs. Briant was shut in. Tons of rock and earth, undermined by rains, had slid down a low cliff in the Loire valley and it was after she was caught in the first slide that General Dunlap and her husband were caught in another slide while trying to reach her.

The body of Briant was found crushed beside that of Dunlap. Major Robert L. Walsh, Assistant Military Attache of the American embassy, will take Dunlap's body to Paris, accompanied by the widow. Interment will probably be in Washington.

Girl Plans Ocean
Flight In A Week

Jersey City, N. J. May 20.—(AP)—Ruth Nichols will take off on her solo flight across the Atlantic within a week, Colonel Clarence D. Chamberlin, her aeronautical adviser, said today.

Miss Nichols will take off from Droyer's Point air field, Jersey City, and leave the American continent at Harbor Grace, N. P. She expects to fly to Croydon Field, England, or beyond.

Alterations to increase the speed, efficiency, and "riding" of her 600 horsepower monoplane, in which she set woman's world altitude and transcontinental speed records, have been completed under Chamberlin's supervision. He is now testing the plane and she will take it up herself soon.

Judge's Wish To Reach 82 Realized

Edwardsville, Ill., May 20.—(UP)—Judge Benjamin Rudolph Burroughs, an invalid for nearly three years, often expressed the wish he might live until 82.

Today was his 82nd birthday, and he died a few minutes after midnight.

Two months ago it was said he could not live more than 24 hours because of his condition, but he rallied, and clung tenaciously to life until his birthday.

Judge Burroughs was a Circuit Court judge from 1889 until 1909, later an Appellate Court Justice at Springfield, Ill., and had served as a member of the state Board of Administration. When younger he was active in banking and educational affairs of the state.

TWO CHILDREN,
ARE MURDERED*Roomer At Her Home Admits Triple Slaying To Police

Mattoon, Ill., May 20.—(AP)—Declaring that he had killed Mrs. Carrie Bowers, 38, formerly rice plantation owner of Stuttgart, Arkansas, and her two little sons, because she had asked him to, Merle Johnson, 25, also of Stuttgart, a farm hand, was under guard in Coles county prison today.

St. Hampton, merchant policeman, arrested Johnson at 4 o'clock this morning when he saw him, bareheaded and unkempt, walking aimlessly about Mattoon with both hands in his pockets. Hampton asked him what he had in his hands and he pulled them out showing bad burns.

"I was coming in to tell you about it," he said.

Told Story Freely.
According to the story he told freely, he agreed to carry out Mrs. Bowers' instruction for her self destruction and the killing of her two children, and accordingly killed the two boys first, and then shot the woman. He told exactly where the automobile was, stuck in a ditch. The woman was fully dressed but the two children were in night clothes. They had been strangled, beaten with a wrench and shot.

Johnson said he had burned his hands fastening the ropes around the necks of the two little boys.

While neighbors about the house where they lived on Prairie street regarded Johnson and Mrs. Bowers as man and wife, Johnson refused to tell about the relationship merely saying he worked for her in an oil station here. He said he had a mother and father living in Arkansas.

While Johnson gave his age as 24, police said he looked more like 43.

Believe Insane
Coroner F. S. Schilling and Sheriff Vincent Aye, who made a hurried examination of the house Johnson confessed burning, before he committed the murders, were at a loss to find a clue and presumed the man was insane.

Johnson was an employee of Mrs. Bowers' husband until July, 1930, when he died, and his body was brought here for burial. Half a year later, in Feb. this year, Mrs. Bowers sold the plantation, and came here with Johnson and her two children, in an automobile.

Search of the home, and inquiry at local banks failed to reveal any deposit of money, which it was assumed Mrs. Bowers must have made with the proceeds from the plantation. Johnson declared he knew nothing of the money.

He insisted he was "perfectly sane" and knew what he was doing. He said the house where he lived with Mrs. Bowers caught fire last night when an electric bulb exploded and set fire to escaping gas.

While being taken to the county jail at Charleston, Johnson told Sheriff Aye that his only regret was that he had used the automobile wrench to beat the heads of the two little boys. The Sheriff quoted Johnson as saying that his act "was the most brutal murder he had ever heard of."

After that trip, Sheriff Aye said he believed Johnson was sane, and that he intended getting a written confession from him immediately.

POPULAR MAN GREETED BY LARGE CROWD

Show Pleases All; Concert

Daly's Entertainment and Lectures Draw Crowds to the Vacant Lot at Show Grounds on Lincoln
Highway West of Milk
Factory

Harry E. Daly, the Tonal Man, traveler, lecturer, advertiser and philanthropist, who created such a furore in the large cities of the country, last night gave his first lecture and demonstration to the people of Dixon. The entertainment was a big success. The music and singing pleased the crowd, as one could tell by the expressions on their faces.

The crowd represented Dixon citizens and presented several different strata of humanity. The merchant, the working men and families, the shop girl, all mingled together and enjoyed the evening of merriment and pleasure. The concert was held on the big electric light stage on the vacant lot on Lincoln Highway west of the Milk Factory. Although suffering from a bad cold and a little hoarse, the lecture by the Tonal man was a remarkable example of his oratorical power. Daly has the look of a man who has accomplished much along the line of his life's work. When he talks he speaks conviction into the hearts of his hearers. In an interview Daly expressed his warm appreciation of the manner in which he has been received in this city. "I have been kept busy every minute I have been here. All day long people called at my headquarters to see me about Tonal, the new medical discovery. I have demonstrated the Tonal remedies in the extreme western cities and I have wondered if the people here in the east were affected with the same ills of mankind to the same extent as those who inhabit the extreme western states. But I am convinced beyond doubt that humanity is the same; subject to the same ills; to the common enemy, disease. My theory is readily accepted by thinking people because it is simple. I maintain that the touch is the supreme part of the body, controlling the life giving fluids and therefore responsible for either health or disease. It naturally follows that if the stomach is restored to normal conditions, good health cannot fail to follow. The new discovery will do this, and before I am here three weeks citizens will substantiate my claim. Every day from 10 until 12 in the morning and from 2 until 4 in the afternoon and 7 to 8 in the evening, the Tonal Treatment is demonstrated at their headquarters at the show grounds. Registered physician in charge. The remedies are for sale at the Schildberg Pharmacy. —Adv.

FARMER FINDS TWO IN

ONE IN HUGE EGG
Tremont, Utah, —(UP)—"Two-in-one" was exemplified in its actual form here the other day. Farmer Harry Drew picked up an egg that weighed 4 1/2 ounces and it measured 7 1/2 inches one way and 8 1/2 inches the other.
He discovered an egg inside the larger egg. The inside shell contained the yolk; the outer, the white.

Last year hundreds attended the Blackhawk Produce Co. Egg Day celebration. This year a larger attendance is looked for. 1184

RETURNS TO ITALY

TO SALVAGE MINE
Iron River Mich —(UP)—After 20 years in America, John Prandi, 43 of this city, is en route to his native town in Italy where he buried 50 quart bottles of wine in 1909.

"After all these years in 'dry' America the prospect of digging up 50 quarts of 22-year-old wine back home appeals to me as sort of a treasure hunt," Prandi told friends here upon his departure for Italy recently. "Of course, I also plan to visit my parents and relatives," he added. The wine cache, Prandi revealed, is in a wooded section in the province of Sondria.

OBITUARY

CURTIS MENTZER

The following from a Center Point, Ia. paper concerning the death of Curtis Mentzer, father of Mrs. Oma Holbrook of this city, is of interest here.

People of this community were shocked Sunday morning when the word was passed around that Curtis Mentzer had been found dead in his car in the garage, Sunday morning.

Mrs. Mentzer had been visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Oma Holbrook, at Dixon, Illinois for a couple of days. Sunday morning neighbors noticed that there seemed to be something wrong about the Mentzer place and started to investigate. Mrs. Mentzer was discovered by Mrs. Henry Anderson. He was sitting in the car and the theory is that the exertion of cranking the car was too much for an enfeebled heart from which he had been suffering for some years.

Curtis Mentzer, son of James and Mary Mentzer, was born in Monroe Township, Linn County, Iowa, December 24, 1867, died very suddenly May 9, 1931 at his home in Center Point, Iowa, at the age of 63 years, 4 months and 15 days.

He was married to Miss Anna Reynolds of Alburnett, Iowa, January 31, 1895. To them were born five children Mrs. Ruth Mack, of Alburnett, Iowa; Ray Mentzer, Gale Mentzer and Ira Mentzer, all of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Mrs. Oma Holbrook of Dixon, Illinois. Beside the wife and children there are seven grandchildren three sisters, Mrs. Clara Floyd, of Center Point, Mrs. Elsie Krouse, of Marion, and Mrs. Fannie Lyman of Alburnett.

Mr. Mentzer received his education in the country schools. He has been a life-long resident of this community. By occupation a farmer, he was successful in his chosen occupation.

Mr. Mentzer was a gentleman and worthy citizen, always taking part in those things of interest to the American citizen, carrying forward his national state and local welfare with pride and vigor. He was a splendid neighbor, ever ready and willing to express himself in the terms of the "Good Samaritan." He lived to a large degree a friend and brother to his fellow man. As a father and husband, he was true to this great station of life with a profound and very pronounced love and interest in his family.

Nine years ago while in the revival meeting held in this city by Rev. Mr. McMin, he followed his baby girl, Oma, to the altar and was soundly converted to God and his Christ.

He was baptized in immersion March 6, 1922, by Rev. Charles Pickford, pastor of the Evangelical church and received into church membership on confession of faith March 12, 1922, by Rev. Pickford. Later returning to the farm he transferred his church membership to the Evangelical church at LaFayette. Just recently retiring from the farm to Center Point, Mr. and Mrs. Mentzer brought their letter to this church, and were received into Christian fellowship with his first church again, on April 12th.

While his years as a Christian gentleman have not been many, they have been well lived, lived for the kingdom. His faith was among his trust implicit, his love, ardent. He had just laid his plans for the future in church activities, meaning to be at all services, giving his best to the Master. He has not missed a service both morning and evening in his church since moving to Center Point.

Funeral services were conducted from the Evangelical church at Center Point Tuesday afternoon at 2:00 P. M. Rev. Donovan officiating. The body was laid to rest in the cemetery at Alice.

The Blackhawk Produce Co. invites the farmers, their friends and their patrons to visit the plant Saturday, May 23. It's their second annual Egg Day.

The French government has established a fund to provide girls with dowries of $500 each on condition that they marry within a certain time.

Disbarment Former Congressman Urged

Springfield, May 20—(AP)—Disbarment of former Congressman John J. Gorman of Chicago who as Corporation Counsel conducted former Mayor Thompson's investigation of history, text books, was recommended to the Supreme Court today by Roswell Mason, special commissioner.

To whom the petition of the Chicago Bar Association was referred.

It was upon the report of Gorman regarding pro-British flavor of American history texts, that Mayor Thompson based his ouster of former City Superintendent of Schools William McAndrew. The specific charge against Gorman was that he reported falsely regarding the text book written by Dr. David Muzzey.

Washington, May 20—(UP)—Frank Langdon, assistant Secretary of the International Union of Operating Engineers, was shot through the head as he was dining in a restaurant near the American Federation of Labor headquarters here today with Arthur M. Huddell of Chicago, president of the union, and another union man.

Langdon's assailant fired eight shots at the party of three labor men and then escaped. Only one shot, according to police reports, took effect.

Chicago Police To Quit All Snooping

Chicago, May 20—(AP)—The Chicago Tribune said today that Mayor Anton J. Cermak announced a police policy that eliminates looking for evidence of wine or beer making for home consumption.

"I think that the police have sufficient work to do without snooping at the back doors of homes," the Tribune quoted the mayor as saying. "I don't see why the police should be concerned with the small manufacture of wine or beer in the homes, which is intended for home consumption."

REVELATION GIVES
SPAIN NEW SLANG
Madrid (UP)—Bull-fighting slang has a new word added to its vocabulary—mon-archy, and its derivatives. Thus an entirely bad bullfight is a monarchical bullfight.

A bullfighter who is no good has gone monarchical and the "fan" is entitled to yell at him, "You're worse than the monarchy."

Recently the noted bullfighter "Gitanillo de Triana," whose real name is Francisco Vega de los Reyes (Reyes means Kings) appeared in Valencia but the posters read: "Francisco Vega de la Republica."

Of the 340,000,000 people in India, only 2,600,000 speak English. Of the rest, few can read or write any of the 222 Oriental languages they use.

Kirkland Marshalling
Forces To Escape
Death Chair

Valparaiso, Ind., May 20—(AP)—Mrs. Evan Madera, defense witness in the murder trial of Virgil Kirkland, testified today that she attended a "marriage party" in honor of Kirkland and Arlene Draves two weeks before the girl's death at another party in Gary.

The party drove to Valparaiso, Mrs. Madera said, where Kirkland and the girl he is now accused of murdering were to be married, but the ceremony was not carried out because "Arlene balked."

Ellis Thomas, a Gary policeman, told the jury he was eating in a hot dog stand the night Arlene died. Kirkland and two companions entered the place about midnight, the officer said. Kirkland came back to his table, shook hands with a friend and talked about the friend's new overcoat.

Kirkland appeared to have been drinking, Thomas related, but he saw no blood on the youth's hands.

Thomas testified that he saw David Thompson, one of Kirkland's companions, near the door as he went out to his police car and Thompson also appeared to have been drinking.

On cross-examination Thomas said he saw Kirkland wash his hands. He also testified that when Thompson walked out of the hot dog stand with him toward the police car, Thompson walked between him and the car in which Arlene was.

The state contends that when Kirkland and his friends entered the hot dog stand, Arlene was already dead as a result of attacks by Kirkland. State witnesses said the accused man had blood on his hands when he entered the place.

Lowell Thomas, son of the officer, corroborated his father's testimony.

St. Louis —(UP)—On the 82nd anniversary of the most destructive fires in the history of St. Louis, the conflagration of May 17 and 18, 1849, the city today boasted one of the most modern fire fighting departments in the United States.

When that disastrous fire started nearly a century ago the city fire department consisted of 100 volunteer business men. Three men were killed fighting the fire which raged for two days, destroying 466 downtown buildings, 23 steamboats and caused millions of dollars in property damage.

RAINY NIGHTS

EVERYWHERE
The leader glitters of wet and shining streets,
Of dripping roadways; where each shallow pool
Gleams like a disc of onyx.
And the river is a void of velvet blackness,
In which gold, flickering lights
Unceasing dance and swing,
Amid a shimmering gauze of rain-drops.

Through lengthened aisles of shadow,
Beneath the tall, grim houses, slanting roofs,
(Huge monuments of commerce);
Traffic of men and things,
Now fast, now slow, is urging forward
Through a wavering veil of rain.
As swift, dark shadows slip along a mountain side;
Or changing shapes cast by bright flickering firelight,
Move along somber walls,
Or in a dream dark room.

But in the river's pool
Impenetrably deep and still;
With glowing eyes of white, and red, and green.

The solemn ships glide in to anchorage.

Each a vast silent shape, as of a world that moves,
And carries deeply in its hidden heart
The cares of government, the lives of men,
With all their aspirations dreams and hopes;
Journeying darkly by uncharted seas,
Unto an unknown shore.

Wavering, shimmering quivering, falls the rain
And all the night breathes low, with weary sighs,
To patterning castanets of falling drops;
Until they change to louder cadences gutters
Down to the endless cobbled ways
That ever onward lead
To still, broad river,
And to teeming crowds.

Legion Auxiliary Prepares for Poppy Day Sale Saturday

Work of preparing for the annual poppy sale of the American Legion Auxiliary is getting well under way. The poppies have been received and will be ready for distribution to the volunteer workers who will offer them on the streets of Dixon, Saturday.

Each poppy has been made individually by some disabled veteran who through this work has been able to help himself or his family in the long struggle against the handicaps of war disability. Often there is a tragic and pathetic story wrapped up in these flowers.

Each poppy made means one-half cent earned by some needy veteran for the support of his family or to aid him when he attempts to re-establish himself in the world. Three hundred flowers a day is the limit usually placed on workers to prevent them from overtaxing their strength, but even that small amount is a Godsend to men who have earned nothing for months and years. Approximately 10,000,000 of the poppies have been made this year, and about $100,000 has been paid by the Legion and Auxiliary into the empty pockets of the disabled men.

Citizens of Dixon! Please be ready to lend a helping hand to these unfortunate men by buying a poppy Saturday, May 23.

Second Court of St. James Buckingham Palace Eng., Tonight

London, May 20—Six American debutantes and three matrons will be among the group presented to King George and Queen Mary tonight in the second court of the season at Buckingham Palace.

More than 400 women, including 10 American debutantes and Mrs. Ralph H. Booth, wife of the American Minister to Denmark, figured in the first presentation last night. The brilliant ceremony proceeded without a flaw in the blue and gold ballroom and the only disappointment was the absence of the Prince of Wales, who was guest at an artists' dinner.

Their Majesties will receive the honored ones in exactly the same manner tonight as in the first court. After making their obeisances before the gilded thrones, the guests will pass to the banquet hall to partake of supper and to discuss their impressions of what is probably the greatest occasion in the lives of the socially inclined.

The following will be introduced by Mrs. Charles G. Dawes, wife of the American Ambassador: Miss Audrey Barret, Miss Maureen Smith, Miss Mildred Hockstader and Miss Helen A. McCann of New York; Miss Elizabeth Howry of Washington, D. C.; Miss Katherine Hilles of Wilmington, Del.; Mrs. Clarence Dill of Seattle, Wash.; Mrs. Alfred Donoval on Rockland, Mass., and Mrs. Andrew Long of Hickory, N. C.

Miss Lloyd George to Sit in House of Lords

London, May 20—(AP)—Miss Megan Lloyd George, M. P., daughter of the former Prime Minister, was under sentence today to sit in the House of Lords for "following in her father's footsteps."

In a mock trial at the London School of Economics last night a jury found her guilty and decreed she should be transferred from the House of Commons so that she could not hear the speeches of her father, now leader of the Liberal party.

Philip Guedalla, historian and writer, prosecuted the charge, accusing her of speaking Welsh to the danger of the public and of frequenting a building used by Lady Astor, American-born member of the House.

Lutheran W. M. S. Met on Thursday

The Woman's Missionary Society of St. Paul's Lutheran church held their regular meeting at the church Thursday, May 14th. The meeting was opened by singing "More Love to Thee" followed by prayer. Mrs. Henry Bollman had charge of the scripture lesson. Mrs. A. J. Bjorneby very ably conducted the lesson study on "Japan Today." Another hymn was sung, "The Morning Light is Breaking." A short period of prayer by several ladies was held. Mrs. T. Sweitzer had charge of the program given in memory of Mrs. Cronk. A short business period followed. The meeting was closed by the usual prayer after which a social time followed. The hostesses Mesdames Sweitzer, Bollman, Barton and Bjorneby served dainty refreshments.

Presbyterian Guild Held Picnic Supper

The Presbyterian Guild enjoyed a picnic supper on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Edwin Barlow, where fifteen of the members gathered to enjoy a happy evening, although the rain fell steadily and completely put to rout any idea of a lawn supper. But nevertheless quite a bit of spring lingered within in the lovely flowers, lilacs and tulips and many others.

After the bountiful supper was heartily enjoyed a business meeting was held and some important plans were discussed. A delightful social hour was then spent by all, completing a happy evening.

This flowery welcome awaited the First Lady of the Land at the opening of the annual convention of the Daughters of the American Revolution in Washington. Mrs. Herbert Hoover is shown here, left, receiving an old-fashioned bouquet from Mrs. Lowell Fletcher Hobart, president general of the D. A. R., in the presence of 4000 women gathered in flag-decked Constitution Hall.

HOW HUSBANDS SHOULD MANAGE WIVES IS FINALLY SETTLED BY STAR-READER

A guide for husbands, explaining exactly how they should treat their wives to get the best results, has just been completed by Evangeline Adams after a long study of stars and the zodiac. The result is a primer which supplies detailed astrological methods for insuring marital happiness. All a man needs is the date of his wife's birth, and the job is done. It's as easy as that.

"There are twelve kinds of wives," Miss Adams explains in the forthcoming issue of the Woman's Home Companion. "One woman's meat is another woman's poison, and there are certain husbandly formulas for treating wives." Going through the cycle of the year, she supplies the formulas:

Wives born between April 21 and May 21 are normally quiet and easy going, but when roused are likely to be headstrong. Husbands, therefore will do well not to rouse them. They are exceedingly fond of the comforts of life, and their homes and children. Their husbands must see that they get a regulated emotional life. So far as love is concerned, there should be few difficulties with them, for they are warm and affectionate. Their chief trouble in this respect comes from their tendency to take too much for granted.

Wives born between May 22 and June 21 are versatile and love variety. They are over-sensitive, but they have a gift for affection. Husbands should satisfy their desire for change "by encouraging them to resolve themselves into two persons by carrying along two kinds of work at the same time."

Wives born between June 22 and July 23 love travel, adventure and romance. Their husbands, if wise, will keep their minds and houses well occupied.

Wives born between July 24 and August 23 feel that they rule by divine right. Husbands should accept this fact philosophically and content themselves with encouraging every use of their wives' power and magnetism for the common good.

Wives born between August 24 and September 23 are intellectual, and their husbands must help them to live up to the opportunities for mental development which the stars have given. These wives must be kept from talking too much, from being over-critical, and from a tendency to keep too much to themselves. Husbands must persuade them to present a more social side to the world.

Wives born between September 24 and October 23 have a great understanding of masculine temperament and adjust themselves readily to the demand of the men they love. They are willing to grant a good deal of personal liberty to their men, and encourage their wives to engage in the arts.

Wives born between October 24 and November 23 face great opportunities and great dangers. Husbands must be careful not to let the force of their impulsive natures lead into indiscretion and excess. They are very magnetic and have a strong physical appeal to men; this should be guided by making their magnetism operate on a high plane.

Wives born between November 23 and December 22 have a tendency to brusqueness of manner and bluntness of speech, but if they conquer these traits, their social success is assured. Their husbands should help them to exercise patience and tenacity, remembering always that they are of the breezy type rather than the romantic.

Wives born between December 23 and January 20 have strong domestic instincts. Husbands must help them to exercise fineness and to keep their affections on a spiritual plane. Husbands must set them an example of courage and generosity, for they are inclined to be self-centered and stingy.

Wives born between January 21 and February 19 are loyal and successful in family life. They possess intuition almost akin to prophecy, and husbands must never forget that they belong to the whole world, and to convince them of their ability to do anything they start out to do.

Wives born between February 20 and March 21 are sensitive and sympathetic. If husbands find them "dawn first one way and then another, there is no need to be discouraged, for much can be done to help them make up their mind, and to convince them of their ability to do anything they start out to do.

Wives born between March 22 and April 20 are aggressive and husbands must exercise patience and tact. They are generous and they love practical achievement, but they are inclined to be critical and overbearing. Husbands must handle them with gloves.

Sacred Poems Will Be Read Over WMBD

Mrs. John A. Strayer of Sterling will again have a number of sacred poems she has composed recently read this week over Radio Station WMBD, Peoria, during the weekly 8 o'clock Sunshine Hour program. Mrs. Strayer will be remembered by many of the older folks of Dixon as Elizabeth M. Ness of South Dixon as she resided there as a girl a number of years ago.

Lupe and Gary Are Not to Wed, They Say

Hollywood, Cal., May 20—(UP)—Lupe Velez and Gary Cooper quelled rumors today that they were to wed in Reno, Nev., and had engaged a honeymoon suite in the Riverside Hotel there.

"Gary and I are just good friends," said Lupe. "I wouldn't marry him if he were the last man in the world. I don't care for him that much. We just got in the habit of going around together. We are not going to be married."

Cooper said: "Riverside Hotel? Never heard of it."

Asked about the marriage rumors, the actor replied: "Absolutely not. There is no chance of us getting married."

Glorifying Yourself

If you have ever had a close-up view of a thoroughbred horse you must have admired the proud carriage of his head.

Fine ladies, unlike fine horses, often neglect this aspect of beauty. If you carry your neck and shoulders right and your chin high, you have a head start on beauty!

Stiff shoulders and rounded shoulders are no benefit to anyone. You can shake them and change them, if you will. The secret is to straighten out your spine and stretch it and limber up your shoulders.

Lie flat on the floor and wriggle about on your spine, the way a dog or cat wriggles when he wakes up and stretches.

Then, actually stretch your whole body, arms, legs, alone and then all at once to see just how long you can make yourself.

Next, see if you can get every portion of your spine flat on the floor at the same time. You should be able to. Many adults, however, have what we call sway-back on a horse, meaning that the spine curves inward.

Learn to straighten out your spine and see how your head and chin come up! You will feel 10 years younger, also, which is no mean trick.

If your spine doesn't touch the floor all along, teach it to by slow degrees. This is the way:

Raise both knees as much as you need in order to have that curved portion of your spine reach the floor. At first, you may have to put your hands behind your head and raise your head up too to reach the floor with your back flat against it.

2. When your spine does lie flat, then try letting your head back against the floor and try lowering both your feet until they, too, are flat.

3. You may find that your back curves off the floor the minute you let your feet down. Then raise your knees again, flatten your back out, and reach down and put your hands around your knees.

4. Now begin the rocking exercise which reaches every portion of the spine. A delicate cream for sensitive skins. Recommended for a full face, as it smooths and softens the skin without fattening. $1, $2, $3, $6.

YOUR CHILDREN

by Olive Roberts Barton
©1931 BY NEA SERVICE INC.

Don't give a child everything he wants. It is about the cruellest thing we can do. Cruel, not because life is a rather average affair, and the law of compensation is bound to be in evidence at some periods in his life, handing him disappointments that he can't cope with, but because people aren't going to like him.

Nobody likes a spoiled child when he is little. They will like him less when he is big.

Nor is it fair by mere weakness on our part and sheer spineless inability to say "no," to allow him to grow up into a miserable, unhappy being, ruined by his own sense of expectancy. This habit of wanting things and getting them grows. It gets to the point where there is no satisfaction. What then?

I know a family with two children who handed their youngsters the earth with their monograms on it.

'They're "Yes" Parents'
They were lovely, normal, lovable children when they were little—this boy and girl. I predicted trouble when their mistaken parents insisted on making them receiving stations for everything they could scrape up money to buy.

Not only that, but they couldn't and wouldn't say "no." The word "must" was torn out of their dictionary. They were regular "yes" parents.

I hadn't seen either of the children for several years—then I saw them one day this spring. The history of these years was written all over their faces. The boy flung in with an open letter in his hand. He is to go to college in the fall and had learned that he couldn't have a room to himself.

"I won't go a step to the old college," he shouted. "A fine place you and Dad picked for me! I told you I wouldn't go!"

"Hush, Bob! You ought to be glad you're going at all. Try to be grateful. It's a splendid school."

"Grateful! Huh! I see you ought to be grateful. I can't see why I couldn't have gone some place I wanted to where they don't work your head off."

Took What She Wanted
His sister, 15, came in and demanded the car.

"I can't let you take it," pleaded her mother. "You have no license and your father would be frantic if he thought you'd taken it again after last week. You might have an accident and hit somebody. Please, dear!"

SHIFTING FRONTIERS.

Tracing the shifting bands of population growth is about as good a way as any of gauging what is happening to the nation.

A little book, "Population and Its Distribution," just published for the advertising agency of J. Walter Thompson by Harper & Brothers, sums up some of the trends revealed by the 1930 census and indicates that the American people are still on the move, even though the frontier and the great stretches of unclaimed land in the far west are no more.

For instance: six American cities of more than 100,000 population showed population gains of 100 per cent or more in the last 10 years.

Miami heads the list, with a gain of 274 per cent. Following it is Long Beach, Calif., which gained 155 per cent. Then come Los Angeles, with a gain of 114 per cent; Houston, with 111 per cent; Chattanooga, with 106 per cent, and Oklahoma City, with 103 per cent.

The first thing you notice in studying that list is the fact that no northern city is represented. The three leaders lie in those two "balmy climate" states par excellence, Florida and California. The fourth is in Texas, equally blessed with a mild climate; the fifth is in Tennessee, well below the Mason-Dixon line, and the sixth is in Oklahoma.

In many cases, undoubtedly, the mild winter climate is chiefly responsible for these cities' growth. In all cases the climatic influence was probably very strong. The cold winters and raw springs of some northern states seem to be getting unpopular. People are making up their minds to live where life can be a little easier.

Yet the motive is nothing new in American history. In fact, it has been predominant from the very beginning.

When an industrial city such as Detroit or Pittsburgh records a big growth, what does it mean but that thousands of people, attracted by high wages and plentiful jobs, have decided that the way to an easier life will be straighter and quicker in the midst of the factories than elsewhere?

When an agricultural state like Iowa or Kansas pulls immigrants from distant places, is not the same motive operating in a slightly different manner? Is not the growth of such financial and commercial centers as New York, New Orleans and Chicago due to the same force?

As a matter of fact, it has been that hunger for an easier life that has led to the growth of America from the very beginning. Americans always have been on the hunt for a land of promise. They still are. The family that hops in the flivver and heads for Miami or Los Angeles is following the same star that led its various ancestors across the Atlantic.

NO MORE FREAK ADDRESSES.

Federal postal authorities have followed common sense in ruling that freak addresses on envelopes will hereafter be ignored.

Some people, you know, are fond of putting symbols, weird abbreviations and other freakish forms of address on envelopes. Evidently they think they are playing a game with the postal clerk; if he can figure it out he wins, and if he can't the sender, apparently, scores a point.

At any rate, the postal authorities have ruled that such envelopes, after this, will simply be tossed into the wastebasket; and it is a sensible move. The average postal clerk is one of the busiest men imaginable. He certainly does not have the time to figure out freak addresses written by practical jokers. To expect him to do so is simply to impose on him.

Speaking of Spanish omelets, how about the scramble in Alfonso's old kingdom?

A California girl sued for $35,000 damages when she lost her sense of smell in an auto accident. She'll be lucky if she gets a scent.

At first the mule was very tame and wee Clowdy shouted, "It's a shame that we can't ride much faster. I would almost rather walk." "Oh, give the lazy thing a chance," snapped Scouty. "He's too tired to prance. You're always saying foolish things, whenever you start to talk."

But wee Clowdy wasn't satisfied. He craved a rather speedy ride and loudly shouted, "Hey! Giddyap!" And then he jerked the reins. The mule was startled. Up he jumped, and down the road the queer cart thumped. "You are going to have some trouble now," cried Carpy, "for your pains."

They soon found out that he was right. The small mule ran with all his might. And then he started kicking both his hind legs in the air. "Hang on! Hang on!" cried Scouty. "Gee! I fear 'twill be the end of me. The mule is going crazy 'cause you have given him a scare." "Aw, don't you fret! I'll tame him down, sure as I am a Tiny clown," said brave Clowdy. Then he pulled the reins until they were real tight. This seemed to have the right effect. The mule stopped ere the cart was wrecked. "Hurray for you," cried Carpy. "And thank goodness we're all right."

Back to the Travel Man they went and very shortly they were sent upon another little trip that took them through a gate. The Travel Man had told them he would wait while they went out to see the monstrous winding quait China Wall. Said he, "You'll think it great."

Outside the wall they found a lad who promptly said, "Hello! I'm glad to meet you little visitors." And then he pointed high, and said "That is the wall right there. See how it towers in the air." The sight was so impressive that it made the Tinnies sigh.

(The Tinnies watch some queer irritating in the next story.)

DAILY HEALTH

TREAT IVY POISONING

The vacation season and the warm weather bring an increase in the number of attacks of poison ivy, due to the poisonous sap of the poison ivy, the poison oak and the sumac.

When any part of the plant is crushed or broken and the sap comes in contact with the skin, it produces the irritation and inflammation that are so widely known. Sometimes the sap is carried on the fur of animals, or in golf sticks or golf balls, on clothing or on shoes, and in that way comes in contact with the skin and sets up the irritation.

Of course, the best advice for the person who is likely to be exposed is to study the character of the leaf of the poison ivy or the poison oak and thus to avoid them. The ivy has three dividing leaves and yellowish white berries; the poison oak is a small shrub with broad leaves like the oak, and the sumac is a plant growing in swampy places.

If the person recognizes that he has been exposed, the skin should be washed promptly and thoroughly with soap and water. Water alone will not remove the poisonous sap. When the first symptoms of redness and itching of the skin appear, it is possible to apply various preparations which neutralize the poison and thus inhibit the spread of the infection.

According to Dr. James B. McNair, tincture of iron chloride is particularly suitable for this purpose. It stains the hands, but the stain is preferable to the redness and irritation. Any physician can prescribe a suitable lotion which will accomplish the purpose.

The various methods of desensitizing people against poison ivy have been attempted, but thus far none of them is sufficiently established to be advocated as a routine method. The attack of poison ivy is likely to subside in four or five days, depending on the amount of irritation and exposure.

During the course of the attack it may be desirable to apply other remedies in order to overcome the irritation and burning of the skin. Ointments containing vaseline, cocoa butter, cold cream and similar protective and soothing preparations are much used for this purpose.

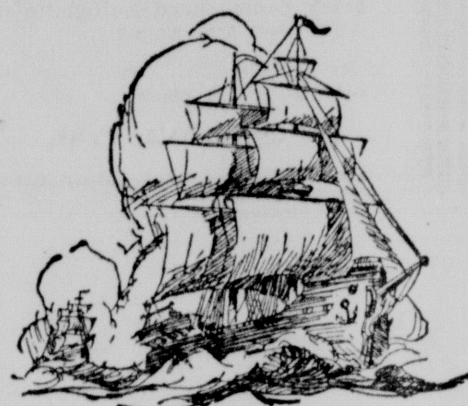

REMAINS OF BETRAYER

OF JEAN D'ARC EXHUMED

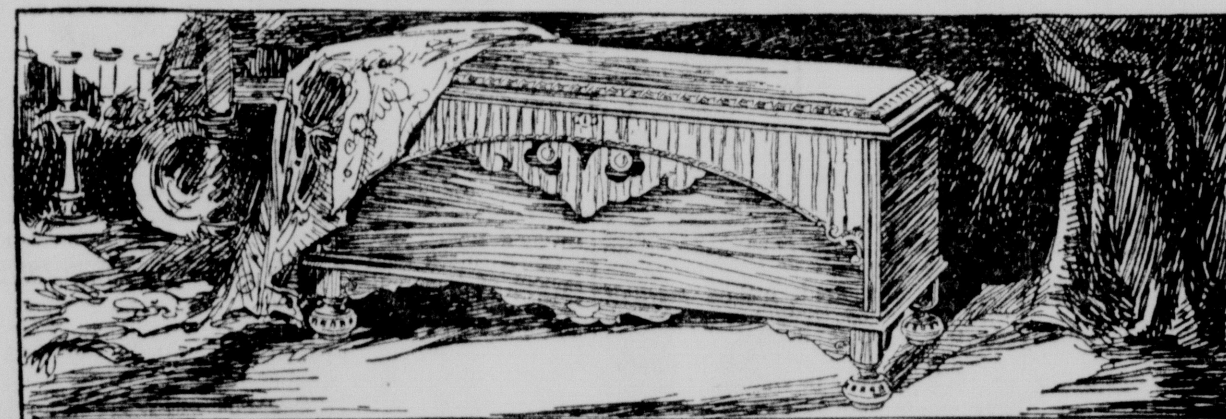

Lisieux (UP)—The remain of the Bishop of Beauvais, Pierre Cauchon, charged by many French historians with having sold Joan of Arc to the English have been exhumed and photographed. The exhumation was for the purpose of proving whether he was accorded full sacerdotal rights.

The lead coffin, in which the remains had been brought from Rouen to Lisieux was opened in the presence of ecclesiastical authorities and a representative of the Ministry of Beaux Arts. No traces of sacerdotal relics were found within the coffin, which, however, was marked with an ivory cross on the lid. The bishop died suddenly in 1442 while shaving.

A beautiful gift for her Graduation

a chest...steeped in the romance of the past

THE DOWLING DOWRY CHEST

The design of this chest reverts to an old dowry chest said to have been used in the Court of King James I in about the year 1620.

According to the story, one of the court attaches, a Sir Henry Dowling, had one daughter whom he loved very dearly.

This daughter, Amelia, had been sent to a convent on the continent. When she was ready to return to England, Sir Henry, in true fatherly fashion, desired to commemorate her home-coming with a gift.

So he called in the artisans and he ordered them to make a chest which should surpass all others in beauty. He selected the wood, watched the work step by step, and finally when the chest was completed, nobody in all the Court had ever seen one lovelier.

Amelia came home. She accepted the chest with heart overflowing with joy. And, according to the story which ends just as all such stories should, she married, settled down and lived happily ever after.

The gift from her father then passed on down through many generations, finally to bestow its wealth of beauty and romance upon this modern adaptation, the Dowling Hope Chest, specially designed for the Girl Graduate by Lane—the world's foremost cedar chest maker.

This Dowling Dowry Hope Chest has the loveliest of Oriental and American walnut veneers on the outside and the choicest of aromatic cedar heartwood on the inside, the cedar being 3/4 inch thick in accordance with the U.S. Government recommendations for a moth-killing cedar chest. It also carries a free Lane Moth INSURANCE POLICY guaranteeing against moth damage up to $250.00 for 5 years. Heavily paneled top richly embellished with hand carved moldings. The chest is roomy, capacious, inviting—indeed a charming treasure to hand down to future generations. We shall be most happy to have you inspect this chest. For the Girl Graduate—for any girl or young woman—no finer or more acceptable gift is easily conceivable. The price is $35. Remember, the cost of one moth-ridden garment will more than pay for a Lane! Convenient terms may be arranged, if desired. We show many other pleasing Lane models from $16.50 up.

SCOTLAND YARD WAITS YEARS TO MAKE ARRESTS

Thief of Priceless Nelson Sword Hilt Taken After Three-Year Wait

By ARTHUR F. DEGREVE
United Press Staff Correspondent
London.—(UP)—Patience is as important to a Scotland Yard man as a gun in the hands of an American gangster.

The burly, hard-boiled detective, of the screen who browbeats servants, puffs nervously on large, black cigars and flashes his badge repeatedly, would be treated with contempt by the type of criminals
the "Yard" is called upon to deal with.

Patience Wins
It was patience that finally brought Billy Carter, a Cockney thief, to prison for seven years as a result of a mis-step which is still well known here today although it happened 31 years ago.
Finally, Carter disregarded the practice of most thieves here and stole something the nation treasured—hilt of sword presented to the Great Lord Nelson, England's greatest sea hero.

Part of the loot he disposed of to a "fence." Scotland Yard was called. The chase began. Carter decided a change of air would be especially beneficial so shipped as a sailor on a craft bound for Australia.

He had been in jail before and knew the dangers of disposing of stolen property so three years later he still had the loot with him.
Scotland Yard waited patiently. One day it received a letter from Australia saying a party there had information as to the stolen Nelson treasures and would like to claim the reward of $1,000.

The Yard Acts
With startling swiftness the "Yard" moved into action. It announced Australian police to arrest the man who called for the answer to the letter it had written. But, Carter had changed his mind. He decided to negotiate the matter at closer range and returned to London. Calling at Scotland Yard he declined to give his name or the name of the man he "suspected" of stealing the hilt.

He inadvertently placed his hands on a piece of glass, at least he believed it was by accident, and went into another room for further questioning. A few moments later the fingerprint expert had found his entire prison record. The rest was merely routine.

Scotland Yard had waited and won.
In addition to fingerprints, expert photographs which often build a link of evidence necessary to solve a crime, the "Yard" men have an invaluable helper in the famous "Who's Who." In it one can find the data on law violators as far back as 50 years ago, and the details include such minute observations as the convict's favorite cigarets or food.

Another plague of the London criminal is the feared "flying squad" which doesn't fly but appears everywhere in variously disguised motor trucks and small motor cars. Even the uniformed police are not kept informed of the movements of the squad but any of the squad cars can be reached by wireless from Scotland Yard within three minutes.

Mobile Squad
This group of mobile detectives cruise about the city all day and night, and have proved one of the most effective arms of the police system. They trail limousine and truck alike and their information often resulted in the arrest of six richly gowned women on charges of shop-lifting.

Scotland Yard men are picked from the uniformed ranks. After a year's service any man may apply for plain-clothes duty. Before he receives his promotion, however, he must pass two severe mental examinations. Officials claim this system has resulted in the "Yard" having the best pick of the police brains in the service.

Men who cannot pass the examinations are but recognized as being excellent "thief catchers," often are placed on temporary duty with the "Yard" during times of emergency.

Typical Family Of United States Lives In Indiana

Indianapolis, Ind., May 20.—(UP)— Golf is the favorite pastime of the "typical American family."

The family consists of Merrill J.
Brown, 44-year old sales manager,
his wife, who keeps her age a secret, and their children, Louise, 15, and John, 13.

They were chosen by the American Magazine as typical of the United States' 29,000,000 families.

One of the typical things about the family is that it doesn't know whether to laugh or be angry at the designation.

"We don't know just what to do about it," Brown told interviewers today.

Mrs. Brown wore a house dress and refused at first to pose for photographs.

"Oh, wait until I change into a party dress," she exclaimed.
The photography was delayed again because she was "afraid the potatoes will burn."

Score, Age, Secrets

She was asked her "average" golf score.

"I don't tell my golf score or my age," she smiled in reply.

The father of the family is a member of several community organizations and of a country club.

He is reticent except on one subject—his business. He works for an Indianapolis firm.

Once Brown made a hole-in-one.
He'll talk about that, too, but not profusely.

Louise is a high school sophomore who loves sports, makes average grades, bobs her hair, uses lipstick and is pretty.

She isn't domesticated to the point where a quiet evening with the family appeals to her.

There's plenty doing around the family to keep it from being quiet,"
she observed pithily.

John, who is large for his age, is looking forward to entering high school next fall.

He is the best golfer in the family,
wants to be a second Bobby Jones,
and has just had his appendix removed.

In Typical Home
The Brown family lives in a typical home in a typical residential section of Indianapolis, which considered itself a typical city in a typical state.

The home has a big front yard which is plentifully dotted with sage and dandelions.

The porch is usually occupied by the family dog, while the living room has a radio which is almost always going.

A closet door swings open, disclosing golf clubs, tennis racquets, and fishing tackle.

All the members of the family are Hoosiers. Brown was born at Rockville, in western Indiana, his wife in southern Indiana and their children in Indianapolis.

The search for the "typical family" was narrowed by limiting it to Indianapolis, chosen as a typical city nearest the center of population.

The telephone director was consulted and questionnaires sent to 3-666 families named Smith, White, Jones, Miller, Johnson, Brown, Davis, Wilson, Moore Williams Thompson or Taylor.

The answers to the questionnaire were tabulated and the Merrill J.
Browns emerged as the most typical.

WOMAN MAYOR GOVERNS WITH DIRECT ACTION

The Oldest U. S. Feminine
Executive Fields
Effective Axe

Pacific Grove, Calif.—(UP)—Mayor
Julia B. Platt, 73, oldest woman mayor in the United States, may rule this seaside community with scientific logic and she may rule it with a crusading axe.

She smilingly admitted today that though she regards the task of city government as just another scientific problem, she has known the expediency of direct action and would not hesitate again to employ
it. She referred to two occasions:
Once when she protested against an attempt to aggrandize public beach property for private gain by smashing a bathhouse barrier with an axe another time when she urged beautification of a scenic spot and, failing to get quick action, led a crew of volunteers with spades and wheelbarrows until the littered spot was cleaned and planted in flowers.

Practical Biology
Miss Platt was a practicing biologist in Germany and Naples before settling here 31 years ago.

"My training in the laboratory," she said, "gave me a fondness for a problem. I find this training very valuable on this new job. I hope to work out this town's problems as I would any arising in the laboratory. Sometimes that can't be done; then we will try something else." She laughed.

She ran for mayor, she said, because she wanted to see the town
under her favorite reform, the city manager form of government, established here four years ago, mainly through her efforts.

Staunch Humanitarian
She doesn't mind seeing anyone take a drink, but hates to see anyone get drunk. She doesn't object to women smoking, though she feels it is unhealthy in excess. She is a staunch humanitarian and her arch-enemy is the "eye-for-an-eye" theory of punishment. She believes that many are thus penalized for hereditary and environmental accidents beyond their control. She believes, instead, in correctional and educational methods, which are, she said in their infancy.

Habits Of Drinkers Of World Cataloged

By WALLACE CARROLL

United Press Staff Correspondent
London, May 20.—(UP)—Drinkers from Bucharest to Seattle will find their habits analyzed and catalogued when the Royal Licensing Commission issues its report next month.
The drinking habits of 40,000,000 persons will be affected by the recommendations of the commission, which has been studying the liquor problem in Great Britain for two years.

In addition to its report upon the conditions in Britain, the Commission is expected to publish testimony concerning liquor consumption in other lands. One volume will be devoted to liquor legislation in the British Dominions. Another will contain reports from British representatives in the United States, Belgium, Denmark, Finland, France, Italy, the Netherlands, Rumania, Norway, Sweden, Switzerland, Portugal and Spain.

It is believed the commission has particularly studied the Swedish plan of liquor control. This was the plan which was endorsed by six members of the Wickersham commission in the United States.

This system provides for monopolies to manufacture and sell liquor.
These monopolies are created by the government but are financed by private capital.

Norway is another country whose methods have been closely investigated. The Norwegian scheme provides for inspectors who work like dairy inspectors in the United States visiting the distilleries twice a day.

After manufacture in private plants, spirits can only be released to the Norwegian wine monopoly, which has the sole right to sell wine and spirits in Norway. Beer, however, is sold direct to the public, by breweries or by dairies and other retail establishments licensed for the purpose.

The report of the Royal Commission will be submitted to parliament and there will be demands that the government act upon its recommendations. As the commission is composed of representatives of the brewers, the temperance workers and the general public, however, it is considered unlikely that its report will offer a suitable basis for legislation.

A program to develop the mineral resources of Southern Illinois will soon be launched by the Illinois Chamber of Commerce and the Illinois State Geological Survey.

ing a $900,000 extension of its tracks

CUBS NOW ROAST OF TOWN INSTEAD OF FANS' TOAST

Hornsby Will Be Asked To Explain Eastern Trip's Debacle

By PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
Chicago, May 20.—(AP)—Chicago's Cubs, only a few weeks ago the toast of the city, today were the "roast" of the town.

They have failed dismally on their current road trip and the fans, who started to forget all about Manager Joe McCarthy when they dashed away from the 1931 National League barrier like a twenty grand, are back booing and predicting all kinds of turmoil in the front office where Own William Wrigley, Jr., dreams of the world's championship baseball team he says he and the fans of Chicago must have.

There is considerable doubt as to any "turmoil" in the Wrigley office today but there isn't much doubt but what Manager Rogers Hornsby would be called on to give his version of "what's wrong with the Cubs?" when he confers with his chiefs Saturday. There isn't much doubt either but what he will be requested to shake the club from top to bottom, if necessary, to put it back in the pennant race.

The "Rajah" will bring his team, leaser in six out of seven games so far on the eastern invasion, back to Chicago Saturday and will go into a huddle with the Cub bosses at most as soon as he returns.

Rumors Not Proven
As far as newspapermen, traveling with the club, can determine, rumors of personal disputes between the "Rajah" and his players have been as untrue as they have been numerous. In almost every city they have visited, reports have filtered back and forth that Hornsby and some of the players, usually Hack Wilson, had quarreled. Each rumor was denied only to be revived in some other city, where it was denied again and so on.

Still the club hasn't been clicking although it's pitching, fielding and hitting have been better than the average and better than the team's percentage, which stood at the 500 mark today. The one big ailment so far appears to be in the base running, which has been slow that the Cubs threaten to set up a new league record for supplying double play killings.

When the Cubs dropped their fifth game of the eastern invasion yesterday, even some of the newspapermen joined the fans in the "Anvil Chorus."

Say "Panicle Is On"
"Needless to say, the panic is pretty much on in our little party of wanderers," advised Ed Burns of the Chicago Tribune. "It was even before the ludicrous debacle today as witnessed the fact that there was a call at breakfast which sent the players to an early morning practice, an almost unheard of maneuver on the road. There also is some talk of making the curfew ring a little earlier."

"Tonight found the Cubs wallowing around at the 500 mark," wired Wayne Otto of the Chicago Herald and Examiner. "The players like that ought to be ashamed of occupying a seat of some good deserving second division team. They ought to go home."

But a veteran Cub fan, who has followed the Bruins for years through despair and hope and glory, reflected: "Pretty good at that. Why a year ago they were in fifth place. Today, they are in fourth with all their hard luck."

Baseball Gossip

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Major league baseball teams are busy these days proving that forecasts of a close race in the National League and the Athletics again in the American were correct.

The St. Louis and New York National League clubs are battling for the lead only a half game apart. The Philadelphia Americans, while they have not been able to outdistance their leading rivals, are on top and have done their best to make it a runaway by winning eleven straight.

The A's downed the Detroit Tigers 5-0 yesterday behind the unbeatable pitching of big George Earnshaw. The Philadelphia right hander gave just two hits while his teammates, led by Al Simmons, made good use of nine blows off Waite Hoyt, Simmons, hitting in his 17th consecutive game, connected for a single, a double and a triple.

The victory resulted in no gain for the A's, however, for their leading rivals, the New York Yankees, staged a comeback to hand Cleveland its eleventh straight defeat 8 to 6. The Indians, whose weakness is one of the season's puzzles, made a great attempt to break their losing streak by driving Charley Ruffing from the mound in the second inning, then Henry Johnson pitched good relief ball and Clint Brown could not still the big bats of the Yanks in the early innings.

Washington lost some ground as St. Louis stopped the game at Chicago. The Browns halted Boston and St. Louis.

Timely slugging enabled the National League leaders, the Cardinals, and their strongest rivals, the Giants, to continue their race. The Cards beat Brooklyn 6 to 2 as the Robins failed to give Babe Phelps good support. They got only two runs on eleven hits off Halahan and Derringer made five errors.

Giants took things fairly easy against Cincinnati, using young Bill McCrell on the mound for the full game and holding Critz out of the lineup, but they won out easily, 9 to 3. The third place Boston Braves continued their pursuit of the leaders by pushing Chicago deeper into fourth. Aided by three Cub errors, the Braves scored eight runs in the first inning and won out 9 to 5. "Ace" Elliott of the Phillies was in the hole again but this time it was not of his own making. He relieved Jim Evers in the ninth inning with none out and the bases full and retired the Pirates in time to save a 3 to 2 victory. The victory left Philadelphia only half a game behind the fifth place Pittsburghers.

A. L. BALL LIVELIER

Chicago, May 20.—(AP)—American League pitchers, except for a few slow curve ball tossers, today admitted that the "dealer" baseball was a pretty healthy sphere.

A comparison of records from the current American League campaign with those up to May 20, 1930, reveals that in five cases out of six the present ball has a livelier habit than the discarded ball of a year ago.

A year ago today, there were 15 games in which one team scored 10 runs or more a game. So far this season, there have been 21 or six more.

Last year at this time, there were 25 "big" innings in which a team scored five or more runs. To date in 1931, there have been four more.

Individual batting feats have been more plentiful this season than a year ago also. Up to May 20, 1930, 15 batters succeeded in getting four hits in one game while one hampered out five; so far this season, 16 batters whacked out four hits in one game while four more belted out five over nine innings each.

Again, up to May 20, 1930, pitchers turned in 21 games in which the opposition batters collected five or fewer hits in nine innings.

The exception is in shutouts. Over the same period in 1930, only seven shutouts were turned in as compared with 10 this season.

Players collecting five hits so far this season were Joe Voshnik of Cleveland, Al Simmons and George "Mule" Haas of the Philadelphia Athletics and Bill Dickey of the New York Yankees.

WHITE SOX HOPEFUL

Chicago, May 20.—(UP)—Only a game and a half out of first division the Chicago White Sox, bolstered by the addition of Lew Fonseca, today opened a drive for fourth place in the American League standings.

Pat Caraway, southpaw who has won four games this season, was named to pitch against Washington on their first visit here of the season.

Fonseca, who is batting .380, was obtained from Cleveland in a trade for Willie Kamm and will play second base and bat in the cleanup position for the White Sox. Manager Donie Bush is considering a shift in the White Sox outfield which would move Carl Reynolds from right field to center and place Pat Fothergill in right. With Jolley, Reynolds and Fothergill in the outfield, the White Sox would trios in years despite the fact that it would not rank high defensively.

SPORT SLANTS

The belief has been widespread for some time that Helen Wills Moody, actuated by motives similar to those of Bobby Jones in having no more worlds to conquer, will forsake amateur tennis this summer.

It is no secret that Mrs. Moody has discussed proposals for entering the motion pictures. For a short series of "talkies," of the type turned out with Jones as the star Queen Helen undoubtedly could collect upwards of $100,000.

HELEN VERSUS SUZANNE?

What she might do by playing professionally is another matter even if she were interested. The talk of her doing so and playing Suzanne Lenglen seems more chatter. Miss Lenglen not only is long past her best tennis-playing days but likely can recall the financial disappointment accompanying her venture as a pro with the Pyle tour several years ago.

Mrs. Moody has won the championships of America, Great Britain and France with such ridiculous ease in the past few years that the incentive must be considerably lessened, although there is still her art to take her aboard. Moreover there are no serious threats to her supremacy in sight this year.

DERBY MUD

It wouldn't seem the same old Derby if the Kentucky classic were not run in the rain. Consequently, for the sake of precedent and the more practical reason that the country is feeling the effects of dry spells, they may even welcome the showers at Churchill Downs.

Reigh Count, Clyde Van Dusen and Gallant Fox, have galloped through mud to win the last three Derbies. The last two carried Eastern colors, and another rainy day would lighten the chances of so good a mud horse as Equipulse, the Whitney colt, making it three in a row for the East for the first time since pre-war days.

No reduction of college naval armaments is in sight. Marietta college, Ohio, has been rowing in seclusion for a few years but makes its debut in Eastern competition against the junior varsities of Harvard, Navy and Pennsylvania on the Schuylkill River, May 16.

The development of 150-pound or "lightweight" crews has extended to Cornell, enjoying rowing prosperity for the first time in many months.

Pennsylvania has boated more crews than ever this spring.

California and Washington again will compete at Poughkeepsie. The Golden Bears have decided to enter the "jayvee" as well as varsity crew and will leave June 1 for the East.

MILTON'S BLINDNESS

Tommy Milton—reveals the big revelation, Steve Hargagan, in the Cosmopolitan magazine—became one of the greatest racing drivers in America despite being blind in one eye and with only two-thirds vision in the other.

Milton was ten years old before he realized he had no vision in his right eye. He kept it a secret during the years he set a world's mile record at Daytona Beach, twice won the 500-mile Indianapolis and led a charmed racing life. His closest call was in 1920 at Cotati, Cal., when a stone broke his goggles and drove glass into his good eye while he was speeding at 125 miles per hour. He steered his car to safety without injury to himself or car.

SPORT BRIEFS

Madison, Wis., May 20.—(UP)—"Hank" Bruder, former Northwestern University football captain and star, defeated George Kogut, Chicago, in a wrestling match here last night. Bruder showed exceptional speed in winning two falls. He weighed 185 pounds and Kogut 197.

Madison, Wis., May 20.—(UP)—Having slipped a good distance from the top of the standings by losing two games in five conference starts, the University of Wisconsin baseball team expects its last chance to stay in the running for the Big Ten title to be won last year, when it meets the University of Illinois in a double header here May 23.

New York, May 20.—(UP)—Intercollegiate athletics have reached their zenith and the huge football stadium of the present will be an unnecessary adjunct of the campus within a few years, in the opinion of Dr. William Mather Lewis, President of Lafayette College.

Lewis, principle speaker at the sixth annual dinner of the Sportsman's Brotherhood last night, said the growing participation in athletics, rather than the depression, was due to the decline in football attendance last year.

He predicted that in the next ten years colleges and universities would spend more money in mapping out golf courses, tennis courts, swimming pools and the like than in building huge football stadiums.

Auteuil, France, May 20.—(UP)—Sylvia Henrotin and Jean Osane Sigart of France defeated Mrs. John Van Ryn of the United States and Simone Barber of France, 6-3, 4-6, 6-5 in a women's doubles match of the French hard court championships here today.

St. Paul, Minn., May 20.—(UP)—Art (just a minor leaguer) Shires announced again today that he had "reformed."

Shires said he wanted to tell the world—in whispers please—that he is through with boasting, fighting with managers, wisecracking and excessive use of the first person singular.

The former self-admitted great Chicago White Sox first baseman wants to be known only as "Shires, first baseman, Milwaukee."

"Only a minor leaguer or I would not be here now," he said. "I'd be a sap to think I could go from the majors into the minors and burn 'em up. I'm no different from the rest."

"I'm through with boxing. I'm through with that racket."

Montreal, May 20.—(UP)—Frank Shields of New York and Clifford Sutter of New Orleans probably will represent the United States in the opening singles matches against Canada in the final North American zone Davis Cup tennis play tomorrow.

Although Berton Prentice, non-playing captain of the United States team has not announced his selections, the showings made by Shields and Sutter in preliminary workouts here have convinced local fans that they will pair off against the two Canadian stars, Dr. J. A. Wright and Marcel Rainville, in the opening contests.

Wright and Rainville are expected to play all five matches for Canada although Alan Dunlop, the non-playing captain, admits there is a possibility that Gilbert Nunnis may take part in one of the singles.

Shields and Sidney Wood will form the United States doubles team.

Auteuil, France, May 20.—(UP)—Illness will prevent Henri Cochet, world's leading singles player, from defending his title in the French hard courts championships here next week, it was announced officially today.

Aurora, Ill., May 20.—(AP)—For a study on persistence take H. T. Fleming, a veteran trainer at the Aurora race track.

The average horse trainer usually forsakes an animal if it can't land in the money after the first five or six starts, but not Fleming. He started the two-year old filly, Elsie, Bruce, on the Cuban tracks last winter, nine times and she didn't even finish in the money. Her best showing was sixth place. Yet he brought her to Aurora, tried again, and she galloped home yesterday through the mud to pay her backers in the mutuels $66.80.

"She's a great horse, and you'll agree with me yet," he said.

PROTESTS BEAUTY SHOWS

PARIS.—(UP)—Mrs. Curchod-Secretan, a Swiss woman who represents the international union for the Protection of Young Girls, protests against the beauty shows that take place annually in a number of countries. She has lodged a resolution requesting the League of Nations to approach the different governments in view of putting a stop to beauty shows which are an immoral organization. Mrs. Curchod-Secretan says that the greater number of delegates of the international union join with her in lodging this complaint.

McLarnin and his manager, Pop Foster, previously have shown little interest in gaining a championship, believing they could make more money without a title, but Jimmy now is anxious to win the title. "I probably could make more as a contender than as a champion," McLarnin told the United Press. "But I guess all boxers want the glory of holding a world's championship and I'm no different from the rest. If I take the welterweight crown, I'll have to defend it every time I start or else spot my opponents a lot of weight, because by nature I weigh 140 pounds and if I engage in over-the-weight bouts my opponents would have more than pounds pull."

His 70th Battle

McLarnin's bout with Petrolle will be his 70th fight.

Although 15 of these have been against champions, or men who later held titles, McLarnin has engaged in only one championship contest, losing a 15-round decision to Sammy Mandell for the world's lightweight title in 1928. He later defeated Mandell in two catchweight bouts and his record also included victories over Pancho Villa and Fidel LaBarba, former flyweight champions; Bud Taylor, former bantamweight champion; Louis Kid Kaplan, former featherweight champion; Al

McLARNIN IS IN DEAD EARNEST IN PETROLLE FIGHT

Popular Fighter Has Now Reached the Turning Point in Life

By DIXON STEWART

United Press Staff Correspondent
Orangeburg, N. Y., May 20.—(UP)—Jimmy McLarnin, most popular of present day fighters, has reached the turning point of his career and the serious manner in which he is training at Gus Wilson's camp indicates that the Pacific coast slugger intends to make his forthcoming bout with Billy Petrolle, a stepping stone to the world's welterweight championship.

The baby-faced Irishman, who has defeated eight world's champions, but never held a title, and Petrolle are scheduled for a 10-round return bout at Madison Square Garden, on May 27. In the previous bout last fall McLarnin received the worst beating of his career and narrowly escaped a knockout. A second victory for Petrolle definitely would eliminate McLarnin from top ranking in his class and probably would mean the end of his career while a decisive reversal of the previous decision would qualify the coast slugger for a titular bout with the welterweight champion, Jack Thompson.

McLarnin and his manager, Pop Foster, previously have shown little interest in gaining a championship, believing they could make more money without a title, but Jimmy now is anxious to win the title. "I probably could make more as a contender than as a champion," McLarnin told the United Press. "But I guess all boxers want the glory of holding a world's championship and I'm no different from the rest. If I take the welterweight crown, I'll have to defend it every time I start or else spot my opponents a lot of weight, because by nature I weigh 140 pounds and if I engage in over-the-weight bouts my opponents would have more than pounds pull."

two years ago that Tolan set the record.

Tolan perhaps has overcome more handicaps than any other sprinter in history to achieve his present ranking among the fastest men in the world. He has bad eye-sight and wears glasses on the track. He is bow-legged, has weak knees and none of the physical attributes of a sprinter. Many of his defeats may be attributed to his inability to get away fast. It is doubtful if Tolan could be beaten if he were allowed to get a running start in the century.

IRISH ARE FAVORED

Milwaukee, May 20.—(UP)—An impressive aggregation of individual stars has made Notre Dame the favorite to win the sixth annual Central Intercollegiate Conference track and field meet at Marquette University Stadium Friday night.

Preliminaries will be conducted Friday afternoon and the finals will be run off at night under powerful floodlights.

On the Notre Dame squad are such stars as Alex Wilson, middle distance runner; Bill McCormick, dashman; Capt. John O'Brien, hurdles; and Ralph Johnston, pole vaulter. All of these men have shown their ability in previous meets and are expected to be high point winners for the Irish.

Several of the other schools that will take part have men worthy of consideration.

Marquette, for instance, has John Sisk, football ace and speed star; Jack Tierney, a sophomore who won the 100 and 220 yard dashes at the state collegiate meet this year, and Pete and Jack Walter, Canadian middle distance runners.

Another football star, Bill O'Neil of Detroit University, is expected to win points for his school in the sprint events.

Lake Forest College, Michigan State, Butler, Bradley and Loyola are other schools expected to take part in the meet.

The Central Intercollegiate this year will honor the memory of Knute Rockne, former Notre Dame football coach. A large cup, known as the K. K. Rockne memorial, will be awarded the winning team, according to Conrad M. Jennings, athletics director and track coach at Marquette.

Appoints Himself Own Chief Deputy

Chicago, May 20.—(UP)—City Sealer Joe Grein, who took office under Mayor Anton J. Cermak to compel short weighing merchants mend their ways announced today that he had reached a decision on appointment of a Chief Deputy.

"Your honor," he informed Mayor Cermak, "I have decided to appoint Joe Grein as Chief Deputy under City Sealer Joe Grein."

"I mean I'm going to appoint myself and serve in both jobs without a salary. I'll save $5,000 as Sealer, $3,900 as Chief Deputy and $4,000 or so by doing away with the Sealer's automobile and chauffeur."

Nears Career End

Eddie Tolan, Michigan's "Midnight Express," who holds the world's 100-yard dash record of 9.5 seconds, will near the end of his collegiate career in the conference meet. It was in the Big Ten meet

Favorite Reached Fifth Round Of British Open Tourney

BY VIRGIL PINKLEY (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Westward Ho, Eng., May 20—(UP)—George Voight of New York, the favorite, reached the fifth round of the British amateur tournament today with a 3 and 2 victory over Bernard Darwin golf writer.

Voight is the only overseas player remaining in competition. Voight went out in 38, one over par. He equalled par at each of the first six holes. He found trouble on the seventh to take a 5, one over par. He took three putts on the short eighth for a 4, also one over par.

Voight's approach of the 464-yard ninth failed to reach the green, but his run-up left him within inches of the pin and Darwin conceded the shot for a birdie 4.

His iron play was spotty. He blasted unusually large divots with almost every shot from the fairway, and showed a tendency to pull to the right.

Voight was one over par on the seven home-coming holes played. He had consecutive birdies on the 11th and 12th holes, but was one over par at each of the next three, scoring a par three on the 16th to win the match.

Voight's card:

Par Out—545 434 435—37 In—445 434 354—36—73

Voight Out—545 434 544—38 In—434 545 33x

Weather Was Better
Today's fourth and fifth round matches were played under pleasant weather conditions. There was a brilliant sun, a cloudless sky and warm temperatures.

Voight will meet Sydney Roper of Woolston Park in the fifth round. Roper won over L. Hem R. Hornby of Salford in the fourth round this morning, 2 and 1.

An insurance agent, 27 years old, Roper is one of Britain's finest golf strikers. He has a perfectly timed swing. He was two under fours for 15 holes yesterday, which is two strokes better than the round he scored against Bobby Jones at St. Andrews in 1930.

Roger Wethered, a former champion, and twice runner-up, won by 7 and 6 over A. Macbeth of Bowdon, in the fourth round.

The most exciting match of the morning was that between R. Straker of Walsley Heath and Lister Hartley of Chislehurst. Straker won, 1 up, after a thrilling sortie of par and sub-par golf.

Straker was out in 34, three below par. He scored an eagle 3 on the 5-par ninth when he holed out from a bunker.

Hartley, who had been one of the betting favorites to reach the finals, played four under fours from the sixth to the 18th holes.

Straker's victory supplied revenge for the defeat administered by Hartley in the Gold Vase tournament of May 9. Hartley won that tournament, with Straker in second place.

LONGER BOXING MATCHES WERE STEP NEARER Senate Committee Has Recommended Bill Be Enacted

Springfield, Ill., May 20—(UP)—Fifteen round boxing bouts were a step nearer in Illinois today as a result of action of the state Senate committee on Efficiency and Economy yesterday in recommending that the bill be reported for passage.

Enactment of a law permitting 15 round bouts, according to Representative Frank Foster, Republican, Chicago, sponsor of the bill will give Illinois and equal opportunity to compete with New York, California, Michigan and other states having 15 round laws.

It also may mean that the world's championship bout between Max Schmeling and Young Stribling, scheduled to be held in Cleveland, O., July 3, will be transferred to Chicago. Foster told member of the House when the bill was passed by that body that he had "assurance" that a transfer would be made.

Numerous amendments however, are to be offered to the measure when it is called in the Senate on amendment stage. They will be sponsored by the Illinois Boxing Commission and the University of Illinois, University of Chicago, and Northwestern University.

George Huff, Athletic Director of the University of Illinois; Kenneth Wilson of Northwestern University, and Nels Norgen, University of Chicago, as well as John V. Clinkin, Chairman of the State Boxing Commission attended yesterday's hearing. Only Huff and Clinkin testified.

The chief objection to the bill that was raised by Huff was a provision compelling amateur boxers at all universities and colleges in the state to belong to a National Amateur Athletic Association. Objection also was made to a provision giving the boxing commission control over university boxing activities.

The amendments to be offered will exempt universities of the state from the effect of that part of the bill which would compel them to obtain licenses to hold interclass bouts, for which no admission charge is made, and to appoint their own ring officials.

One MELODY GIRL

by RUTH DEWEY GROVES

BEGIN HERE TODAY
BERYL BORDEN, secretly in love with TOMMY WILSON, delays his elopement with her sister, HELEN EVERETT, but fails to convince him that it is his duty to follow college.

Later Irene postpones the marriage believing she is to become a radio singer. Securing an audition, she permits Beryl to go to the studio with her. While waiting Beryl sits down at a piano and croons melodies. One of the directors hears her and gives her a contract letter. Irene falls and is furious when she hears of Beryl's success. Time passes and no word comes from the studio. At last a letter comes and Beryl slips away for the interview. She is elated when presented with a contract. Her victory is bitter-sweet for her family and Tommy believe she has robbed Irene of her chance. Beryl's debut is a success and she returns home laden with floral tributes.

Burning with envy, Irene decides to marry Tommy immediately but his aunt dies and the wedding is postponed. MR. HOFFMAN, Tommy's uncle, wants a new housekeeper and offers inducements for an early marriage. Success does not kill Beryl's love for Tommy, but she accepts invitations from young PRENTISS GAYLORD. When he calls, Irene greets him.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XIX
AFTER the first flash of dismay in which Beryl realized that Irene had entrapped Prentiss' admiration she wanted to laugh.

Wasn't it funny that just when she made up her mind to encourage him she should follow in Tommy's footsteps and succumb to Irene's shell of beauty?

Driving to the South Shore beside Prentiss in his black and chrome roadster Beryl pondered the effect of this new conquest upon her sister's attitude toward Tommy.

She could ponder undisturbed, for her companion had fallen strangely quiet. Was he thinking of Irene?

Beryl sighed, unheard against the wind that rushed against her face. There would be no problem for her to settle if Prentiss should transfer his attentions to Irene. She could slip back into her hopeless passion for Tommy. But did she want that? Perhaps a little effort on her part . . .

She moved closer to Prentiss. Beryl did not know exactly what she was doing. She'd never vamped a man. What would it lead to? How far did girls go and still have a retreat? What if she did not want Prentiss to care for her, to make love to her? What if he should do it and she found it abhorrent? Wasn't it cheap to lead a man on and then draw back? Hadn't he a right to feel offended when a girl did that?

All at once Beryl drew away from the man beside her. She was out of her depth and knew it. Prentiss heard her laugh, and turned to look at her.

"I'm a little rotter," she said to him. "I was trying to vamp you." "Yes, I know," Prentiss said. "Was I that crude?" Beryl asked.

PRENTISS did not answer at once. Beryl was a new kind of girl to him. Not nicer than any girl he'd ever known, but astonishingly different. She brought new thoughts to his mind.

"No," he said slowly. "I wouldn't say you were crude unless one judged you by crude standards. I should say that, without knowing it, you were being extremely subtle."

"I'm afraid," Beryl admitted, "that I don't understand." "I'm not sure that I understand, myself," he told her. "There's an idea among certain girls that they've an obligation to live up to all the things that have been said against the youth of today. When they go after a man it's something more than hammer and tongs, tooth and nails. It's . . . well, never mind."

He paused and Beryl said: "Go on. Scold me. I deserve it." "They'd laugh at you," Prentiss declared. "But I've a notion that none of them ever get near the real thing, that thing that figured in the history of great loves. There must have been subtlety in that."

Beryl, embarrassed, attempted a joke. "Slow, but subtle," she said with an awkward little laugh. It was coming to her now, the reaction of her behavior. Fighting impulses had been a life-long habit with her. She wondered why she had given in to these two—first to act as she had and then to confess her error. Couldn't one be a fool about honesty?

Prentiss spoke, as though he had read her mind. "The queer part of this is that you did it," he said. "Why did you?"

The honesty in her nature, which Beryl had just been questioning, was still in control. It dictated her answer. "Because I often want to do things that I won't let myself," she said.

CHANGE IN SPAIN LEAVES EUROPE WITHOUT UNREST

United Press Survey Finds
European Disturbances Economic Not Political

London—(UP)—The wind which swept Spain from monarchy to republic refilled the surface in other European countries, but did no more. A United Press survey of principal capitals disclosed stringent economic conditions and other factors of unrest, but nothing indicating that Spain's revolutionary example will be followed elsewhere in the near future.

In Spain itself, it was realized that a change in government can bring no millennium. Observers and officials agreed that the implantation of the republic did not wipe out all political and social problems, but brought into power a regime believed to have greater chance of achieving satisfactory solution than had the monarchy. Even in political matters, the possibility of a reaction toward monarchy—taking the political form of a "monarchist right," seeking opportunity to effect restoration of the Bourbons—was envisaged.

Economic Problems Loom
Exportation of capital was seen in Spain, as in several other countries, as a major menace of the present. Even before the republic was declared, many aristocrats and nobles made heavy withdrawals of deposits in Spanish banks and sent their funds across the frontier. The new government found that it had no riots or bloodshed to deal with, but no less a problem in preventing the pests from depreciating to new low levels. Unemployment was no worse, but more in the limelight, because of attempts by the new regime to remedy conditions. The agrarian problem loomed, with extensive emigration although socialists contended that prevalence of big hunting preserves and bull-fighting ranches left 48 per cent of the land uncultivated.

London felt the distant tremor of the Spanish revolt, but King George's throne did not move a fraction of an inch. There was, however, increasingly insistent demand that parliament be reformed and made a body of action rather than conversation.

English Market Losses
Authentic causes of unrest in England included the decline of foreign markets under attacks of the United States, Germany and France, the more than 2,000,000 unemployed; and the fact that millions of dollars are needed to rejuvenate antiquated industries. But it is recognized that England must increasingly look to the dominions, and the throne must be because a republican form of government would remove the most powerful connecting link with far-flung territories.

Unemployment was seen as an unimportant problem in France, with disturbing factors being such as to make more for unity under the existing republican form of government than for any variety of overturn. The Franco-Italian naval negotiations held the center of the stage, and attention centered upon building up already extensive armament. It seemed clear that while political events might be attended with plenty of Gallic vocal fireworks there would be no storming of barricades because of Spain's example.

Extremes in Politics
In Germany, it was recognized that there were more people than anywhere else in Europe sponsoring revolutionary ideas. At the recent elections in September of last year approximately one-third of the total electorate voted either for Adolf Hitler's national-socialists or for the communists, both extremes being admittedly striving to overthrow the present regime, yet the government's position was considered solid with no prospects of a revolutionary change. Chancellor Heinrich Brüning's cool-headed and firm post-election policy was given primary credit for the stability of the situation in spite of the precariousness of the economic situation. Business men professed optimism.

Fascism Stays Strong
Spain's change was without effect of symptomatic reaction in Italy. The republican party there has been of small account and like the communist and socialist parties, it has virtually disappeared. Mussolini's dictatorship was believed never to have shown itself so well established, with the result that it was able to show itself less patently dictatorial. The growing strength of fascism has had the effect of really strengthening the position of the reigning family. Business has not been good and there has been some friction with France and Yugoslavia but on the whole no large clouds were sighted on the Italian horizon.

In Poland, the casual observer might have thought political conditions bore resemblance to those prevailing in Spain before the overthrow of Alfonso, but actual conditions differed widely.

Hungary Hard Hit
Hungary, one of the countries hardest hit by the economic depression, showed little sign of political change, and armed uprising was felt unlikely. The fall in the price of farm products amounted to national disaster for Hungary and the number of jobs was estimated at 85,000 or twelve per cent of industrial workers.

Austria Stable
"Politically stable but economically almost on the point of starvation," was the description recently applied to Austria by a prominent political economist. The people were seen as traditionally opposed to a change, but so hard put to it to sustain life that an element of doubt must remain in any forecast. Even the proposed Austro-German customs union lost support after France's objections, and the general attitude was one of distrust of either internal or external.

ASHTON NEWS

Ashton—Ashton again brought home first honors in the state musical contest held at Bloomington on Friday and Saturday. Edgar Shippee competing in cello, winning first honors. The young folks are receiving the congratulations of their school mates and many friends who were very proud of the records which were made by Ashton.

Mrs. Herrold and small son of Evanston, were guests of the Rev. Wilson over the week end.

Many from Ashton enjoyed seeing Charlie Chaplin in "City Lights" at the Hub theater in Rochelle the past week. Among those who saw it on Wednesday were Mrs. A. J. Tottens and daughter, Rosemary, Mrs. Ralph Dean, Mrs. Harold Cross and son and daughter and Mrs. Vincent Arnold and son.

Mrs. Mary Letts of Cleveland Ohio but formerly of Ashton has been visiting friends and neighbors.

Mrs. A. E. Thomas was a Chicago shopper on Saturday.

The Senior Class will hold their annual class night on Friday night.

Mrs. Lucy Cummings who has been a guest of relatives in the locality returned to her home at Drummond, Okla. this week.

Mumps, so medical authorities tell us, are not a serious malady, it is not necessary to quarantine for them anymore but words could not express the anguish disappointment and misery mumps have caused in the ranks of Ashton school children this spring. Many days of school were lost because of the disease. That was not so bad, but the mumps interfered with most of the school's social activities.

One after another various members of the orchestra, glee clubs and others of those hoping to win honors for Ashton high school in the inter scholastic contests came down with mumps, threatening to disrupt the plans that were so carefully and so zealously studied.

A member of the Senior class play cast was unable to appear at the second appearance of the play because of mumps. Miss Ruby Shippee who won state honors in violin last year for Ashton, was obliged to forego the pleasure of competing in piano this year because of the malady. Her brother was unable to attend the district finals at DeKalb because of the same trouble.

Time after time Mrs. Jennings room planned to give their play and were obliged to defer their plans because of mumps. The past week, however, the date was set and all was excitement among the seventh and eighth graders. But alas, and sadder, the mumps were still trailing them and now the play has again been postponed. Mumps! Don't tell Ashton school folks they are not serious. They are nothing short of fatal to school activities.

Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church will be the guests of Mrs. Charles Wagner on Friday.

Mrs. Dora Drummond of Dixon has been visiting friends in the Grove.

The Rev. A. E. Thomas will deliver the Memorial Day address at Amboy at a 10 o'clock service on May 30. In the afternoon, he will deliver the Memorial Day address at Ashton.

Editor Ralph Dean is in receipt of some interesting information regarding the last pigeon flight held at Ashton. Many from Dixon motored down to see the flight and many were disappointed arriving too late, the flight is usually started at 6 A. M. The bird arriving at its home loft the quickest was one belonging to John Krause of Chicago, this bird making the flight of 65.71 miles in 101.4 minutes or a speed of 1141.36 yards per minute.
